BINGO!!!

The "seventieth week" of Daniel's prophecy has NOTHING to do with Revelation. The idea that the "seventy weeks" include a huge gap and that the "seventieth week" refers to Revelation is a relatively new concept. The two main events of the "seventy weeks" are: the confirming of a covenant, and the end of sacrifices. Where does Revelation mention either of these events?

The "seventy weeks" are contiguous and were the greatest prophecy concerning Calvary that we were given, and it was the only one that gave the timing! I personally agree with the Historicist View as shown in this chart. It was the view of most of the saints from Wycliffe's time until Spurgeon's time.

Yes but we have mention of 42 month and 1260 day periods all over the place.

The signing might not be mentioned, but we do see the white horse riding out in Revelation 6:1. It fits right on the timeline.

As does the 42 month authority of the beast in Revelation 13:5

and the fleeing of the woman in Revelation 12 for 1260 days.

Fits very well with the split in Daniels two 3.5 year periods divided by the Abomination of Desolation, both times when the Antichrists authority and Mark of the Beast would start and the woman (Israel) would flee Matthew 24:15-16 at the beginning of the great period of distress.

Might be time to take the blinders off and get away from the graphs for a while.

or get some new graphs. :)

That's a strong assumption on your part.

You say they're contiguous...then you say that half of the seven happened in Yeshua's lifteime, and you connect them to His ministry of an alleged 3 1/2 years. If they were truly contiguous then the last seven should have taken place after the 69 sevens. And if we were to trust your conclusions that would take us 3 1/2 years past the crucifixion--since this is the half way point in your mind. However, Daniel 9:26 disagrees with your premise since it shows a gap of time after the 69 shavuim. We see the destruction of Jerusalem (which Yeshua spoke), and the Abomination of Desolation. So the 70 shavuim are not contiguous...

I wish I could get this book locally or quickly but it appears it is a 'print on demand' book. That means they print one copy at a time when it's ordered. I wanted to take it out of town with me soon but there is no way it would make it in time.

Oh well, at least I will have something to look forward to when I get back- I just don't want to wait.

Well, it looks like I'll get to read Earthquake Resurrection on the cheap.

A friend of mine got a gift certificate to a local Christian bookstore for Christmas. A week ago he was finally getting around to going by this bookstore, called me and asked if I had something in mind, because he didn't.

This friend loves prophecy, when I told him of Earthquake, he said that sounded great. I found out a couple days ago the store didn't have it in stock, but did order it for him.

Here's hoping the Rapture keeps me from reading the book.....

OnTheHorizon, are you speaking of Earthquake Resurrection?
If so, you and Cash will really enjoy it - uh, assuming the rapture doesn't occur first. But then, you might want to take it with you to see what's being talked about anyway.

I would love to take it with me but it won't make it before I leave.

If the rapture occurs while I'm gone, I'll just talk to David Lowe in person.

My, my... aren't we high-minded.

I know a good many people that say the same thing about the Bible. They say things like, "It never did anything for me..." Go ahead. Toss the book out... but if you aren't going to read it (all) then you have no room to debate it.

God bless!!

RV, I probably did come off rather harshly. I apologize for not demonstrating a little more humility here. Bear with me for a moment, if you will, and let me explain my philosophy regarding Christian authors writing on Biblical themes. I think that Scripture is very clear that spiritual matters can only be discerned or understood through spiritual eyes. To the natural man, the gospel is foolishness. It is the Holy Spirit alone who equips us to rightly divide the Word of Truth. Now, let's assume that Mr. Lowe feels that he was given a special unction by the Holy Spirit to understand the matters about which he wrote. I can't imagine on what other basis he'd seek to educate his fellow believers by publishing and selling a book on these matters. A book that, in my humble estimation, is wrapped in the trappings of "modern" marketing techniques. "Shocking new evidence", "This changes everything...", you know what I mean, don't you?

So, Mr. Lowe has been blessed by the Holy Spirit with exceptionally keen insight into these matters, and what does he do with that insight? Well, you tell me, RV. I guess the bottom line here is that, had Mr. Lowe used the power of the internet to freely distribute his startling new knowledge concerning the coming rapture, I would have been FAR more forgiving and less critical than I am having paid over 20 bucks to be "educated". Is it possible that I've also purchased the right to be just a tad critical? Again, you tell me.

But please take my word for it; I waded through enough of this book to make an informed decision that it was not in my best interest to invest any more time in it. So, what did you think about this quote from one of the "experts" that the author consulted?

Quote:

> In effect, Jesus' dead body, lying in the tomb, would have been enveloped in a sphaleron field. This field would have de-materialized Jesus' body into neutrinos and antineutrinos in a fraction of a second, after which the energy transferred to this world would have been transferred back to the other worlds from whence it came. Reversing this process (by having neutrinos and antineutrinos-almost certainly not the original neutrinos and antineutrinos de-materialized from Jesus' body-materialize into another body) would generate Jesus' resurrection body.

You have read the book, haven't you?

Charlie (I like that name... it was my Grandpa's... and he was from Arkansas)... anyway, I digress.

I totally agree with you on your First point. I feel the same exact way about the marketing.

Second: But, if you read about him, you'll know he also gave away many, many copies of his book - even before it went to stores. You cannot begrudge a guy a little profit for his work. It's not like he's listed on the NYT bestseller's list ya know... And of the $20/book, how much do you suppose he's getting? And then, he's gotta pay for the whole printing, etc... stuff I don't even know about, and what's left? Enough to buy a gallon of gas?

Third point, the expert and quote:
Frank J. Tipler, Professor of Mathematical Physics at Tulane University... Was the FOURTH quote he used. All quotes used were different, they didn't have the same answer. His summary of these four were speculative, as was his introduction of them. So, bottom line... he was refuting the fact the shroud of Turin could have been painted... he was making the point that it had to have been created supernaturally, and a group of experts in physics offer no plausible way to duplicate it, even in today's science -- I hope you didn't miss the point... The Shroud is authentic.

Yes, I did read the book. Twice. I'll probably read it again too.

God bless you Charlie!!

I just finished Chpt. 6
I see the Shroud of Turin as a fake.
The shroud is not needed to prove the rez.

I don't see the need to equate every Earthquake with a Rez or a Rapture.
The Temple Veil was torn at Jesus' death on the cross.
Bodies were raised at Jesus' death but they dont have to be immortal bodies.
An angel moved the Stone covering Jesus' tomb, not an Earthquake.
The bodies raised at the Rez were probably immortal.

Is the Trumpet just symbolism of God's reverberated voice or is there really a Trumpet blown by an Angel?

I believe there will be an actual trumpet as well.

Chpt. 7
I am currently looking over the Red Moon theory

Reading all with a great deal of interest...and I admit, even greater skepticsm, but I haven't read the book yet, so I don't want to offer any comment on it. I'm enjoying the comments, however, so in the immortal words of Arnold Horshack, "G'head, g'head, keep tawkin'."

wrath of God starts in the sixth seal

I think book of Revelation says exactly when the wrath of God begins

Rev 6:12 And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, and, lo, there was a great earthquake; and the sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the moon became as blood;

Rev 6:13 And the stars of heaven fell unto the earth, even as a fig tree casteth her untimely figs, when she is shaken of a mighty wind.

Rev 6:14 And the heaven departed as a scroll when it is rolled together; and every mountain and island were moved out of their places.

Rev 6:15 And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every bondman, and every free man, hid themselves in the dens and in the rocks of the mountains;

Rev 6:16 And said to the mountains and rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb:

Rev 6:17 For the great day of his wrath is come; and who shall be able to stand?

In verse 6:17 it says that the day of his wrath is come and occurs during the sixth seal which is the same event in Matt 24:29 and same event declared by Peter in quoting the prophet Joel. IMHO quoting that the wrath of God starts at the first seal is in opposition to what it really says in the book of Revelation and that is the wrath of God does not begin until the cosmic signs and after the abomination of desolation and killing of the saints.

The major obstacle I see in people's understanding of this book is
1. They haven't read it.
2. Maybe they read it, but through the tinted lenses of their beliefs... not with a wholly open mind.
3. They read it for the purpose of refuting everything they read -- again, through the tinted lenses of their beliefs.

Here's an example... I am a pretrib guy -- uh, modified now that I've read his book. If I read this only thru my pretrib tinted lenses, many parts just wouldn't fit into my pre-set conditional terms related to my doctrine. Pretrib doctrine says the opening of the first seal happens right after the rapture and then the A/C comes along and signs or confirms a covenant (a peace treaty)... and the 7 year tribulation period begins there followed by the other seals, on to the trumpets, etc.. and yes, when we get to the 6th seal, the wrath of God begins... but that's about half-way through the 7 years!

Example continued: So, when Lowe states the earthquake associated with the sixth seal is the resurrection of the dead in Christ, followed by the transformation (of those alive) and the catching up (rapture) of all ----- If you find yourself thinking, "Obviously, the guy's prewrath!" Then you don't understand what he's saying.

And you'll never "get" it until you put away the labels, the rose colored glasses, the holier than thou attitude, and read the words. Read the words to understand the author's point, not to refute. Read the words to see if you can understand entirely where the author is coming from. Read the words as if you are hearing them for the first time.

BTW, we all know Terry James is a pretrib guy... how many of you read his review linked to earlier? Terry "gets" it.

In HIS Love,
RV <><

Here is the premise of Chapter 7:
1. Earthquakes happen when the dead are Raptured.
2. There is an Earthquake at the 6th Seal.
Therefore, The Rapture must happen at the 6th Seal because it mentions an Earthquake.

That is a weak thread to balance on.

I really am reading it openly because I am enjoying it.
Lowe is teaching a lot of concepts I haven't heard taught in years, which is sad because I believe they are true.

His chronology lines up with mine, so far,
http://www.buzzardhut.net/index/ETT/NT/Revelation/RevChartVert.htm
The only difference is when the timing of the Rapture happens and I don't believe Earthquakes are a valid key.
Earthquakes happen everyday, the world is groaning and yes I realize Lowe is considering a supernatural Earthquake.
(according to prewrath)When you see the Antichrist enter the temple the time of the Rapture is at hand.
We can't know when the Rapture happens.
Those left behind are given hope of the Second Coming, they can determine the Second Coming at the AOD but not the Rapture
Jesus said don't bother figuring it out anyway.
Unless an open mind means believing the Rapture has to have an Earthquake also and God reveals the Rapture by describing an earthquake.

I will be studying Chapter 8 today and will post my comments.

The first 3 1/2 years will be a time of false Peace.
The Rapture has happened, the earth is shaken up.
Satan is given his chance to 'prove' to God he can rule the world.
He calms down those left behind and builds his kingdom.

At the end of the 3 1/2, Satan enters the Third Temple built off of peace treaty, declares Godhood, and thats when God's Wrath of Heaven breaks loose.
The Last 3 1/2 years are the Great Tribulation when all the super goodies happen.

RV, you put me to open shame. Oh, that I was as gentlemanly as you in some of my rants. I underestimated you, by a long shot.

I confess that I had not the slightest knowledge of the background of the book. I will also confess that I pulled it out of my "finished" stack this weekend and took up where I had left off. I will finally confess that, IMO, Mr. Lowe occasionally really hits the mark. Unfortunately, IMO, he then has a tendency to wander off in the wrong direction with the information he has gleaned. As an example, I believe that he correctly identified the “decree” that initiated Daniel’s 70 weeks, but then completely dropped the ball when he discusses the termination of the 69th week and transition to the 70th. As in most endeavors, a faulty foundation converts the structure that it supports into the proverbial house of cards. In eschatology, you’d better get your basic presuppositions right or all of your cherished theories are hardly worth the paper they’re written on. On this basis, to be perfectly honest, I wrote Mr. Lowe’s theories off pretty early in the book and continued reading mainly to try and recoup something from my investment. But, it just became too tedious and speculative for me and I lost interest. However, having picked up where I put it down, I find that the book can be valuable in terms of asking some good questions, regardless of the value of the answers that the book provides. He who helps me to ask the right questions does me a service.

Anyway, RV, I like your style. Your humility is very becoming.

Blessings!

It should be noted that the passage doesn't say the wrath of God begins only with the sixth seal, only that with it do the unbelievers recognize that it is the wrath of God. Maybe they were trying to explain away the previous judgments as natural catastrophes. It isn't an open and shut case.

Furthermore, there is a blackout that occurs before The Day of the Lord according to Joel. So I see this as the second blackout.

As for the connection to Matthew 24:29...that is actually the fourth blackout which occurs prior to the Second Coming of Messiah. Looking to the harmony of Luke 21 we see that physical and non-physical things are shaken in expectation. This is the answer to the disciples who had asked what the sign of the Second Coming would be...and that is the Shechinah Glory breaking through a worldwide blackout.

I see no opposition to Scripture with my view--I'm merely reading is plainly and literally.

> Pretrib doctrine says the opening of the first seal happens right after the rapture and then the A/C comes along and signs or confirms a covenant (a peace treaty)... and the 7 year tribulation period begins there followed by the other seals, on to the trumpets, etc.. and yes, when we get to the 6th seal, the wrath of God begins... but that's about half-way through the 7 years!

Well, shucks then...I guess I just don't "get it." I'm reading it, though (thanks, Buzzard!!!)...and being as open-minded as one can be when so much Scripture is involved.

Furthermore, I've never believed that the first seal happens right after the rapture... who taught you that? The first seal could take place a decade after the rapture...as could the covenant be made many years afterward. Also, I see nothing in the Scripture that shows the earlier seals had not been the wrath of God, but that the unbelievers recognized it at that point. I think pre-wrath and Lowe are jumping to conclusions.

Just an observation here. The rapture is described as a sudden seizing by a thief in the night. It's an emergency grabbing, because the wrath of God comes upon the world suddenly, while everyone is saying, "Peace, Peace." (the peace worked by anti christ) We are suddenly taken out of the world so we will not be present for the WRATH OF GOD. That is the only thing we were promised protection from.

When the people of earth declare that the wrath of the Lamb has come, they did not say this after the first, second, third, fourth or fifth seal.

They said this after a "violent earthquake, the sun turning black, the moon turning red, the stars falling to earth, the sky disappearing and the mountains and islands being moved.

ALL of the prophecies say that these signs are THE announcement that the wrath of God has come.

There is the assumption that the beast will have power over the world for 7 years, but that is not what the scriptures say:

Dan 7:25 He will harass the saints of the Most High and the saints will be put into his power for a time, two times and half a time."

Rev: 13: 5-9 For 42 months, the beast was allowed to mouth its boasts and blasphemies and do whatever it wanted and it mouthed its blasphemies against God, against His name, His heavenly dwelling and all those who are sheltered there."

Paul says that the apostasy and the revelation of anti christ (described as the beast demanding worship as God in the temple) must come before our gathering unto Him and the day of the Lord.

The beast has power over us for 42 months and then demands worship in the temple. That's the last straw for God. The cosmic signs and earth convulsions herald the wrath of God coming upon the world and our soon snatching away before God pours out His judgement on the earth.

Bingo, ZeroHour. Most folks around here base their entire prophetic scheme on the premise that Daniel's entire 70th week is future. In Lowe's book, he concludes that the 69th week ended at the baptism of Jesus, a conclusion with which I'm in complete agreement. He then offers only two options for the 70th week. Either the 70th week commenced and ended around 34-35 AD or the clock stopped, so to speak, and the 70th week is still in abeyance. Could there be a third option? Perhaps that the clock kept running but considering that the prophecy also stated that this final week was divided, it stopped 3 1/2 years later when the Lord Jesus was rejected as the Messiah of Israel and died a horrible and humiliating death on a Roman cross. Jesus said,

> Quote:
> "I have come in my Father's name, and you do not receive me; if another comes in his own name, him you will receive.

Could it be that there are only 3 1/2 years left of Daniel's 70th week? Could it be that this one coming in his own name will take his seat in the Temple of God claiming that he is a god? Perhaps that might start the countdown of the last 3 1/2 years of Daniel's prophecy. That might be why the Scripture shines a spotlight on the two verses in the Gospels that say, "but when you see the abomination of desolation", you know what I mean, the statement, "let the reader understand". That might be why in Luke 17, the Lord seems to be speaking about the AOD when he warns people to flee, but says that "in that night", two will be in a bed and one will be taken but one will be left. That might be why Paul says that the pretribulation rapture will not occur until the man of lawlessness is revealed, but indicates that it will occur immediately after that. That might even be the reason that there's not a single reference to a 7 year time frame in connection with the last days anywhere in Scripture except in the 9th chapter of Daniel. .....Nah, ZeroHour. EVERYONE around here with any sense knows that Daniel's entire 70th week is still in the future, now don't they?

It could be that the Weeks (for the Jews) stopped at 69 with the Church Age - Bride of Christ, and the Weeks start again (70) at the Rapture, which starts the 7 year Tribulation.
The first 3 1/2 years of 7 year trib are a false peace.
The last 3 1/2 years of 7 year trib is chaos and is The 'Great' Tribulation

The first Seal of the White Horse is the Dictatorship of the Antichrist, not his birth or even any pretrib political seat.

Ok, I hope this does not appear to rude, I am sincerely curious. You state this so matter-of=factly that I am wonder how can you be so certain that this is the correct interpretation?

I have been observing this thread and many others on RR for sometime now, and I have noticed that many posters are so certain of what they are stating. Is this because it has been taught to them through the years by scholars, it has been revealed to them through prayer and study, or just because that is the popular belief?

I am reading this book and a few others in addition to intense study of the Bible because I can not state absolutely what is meant by these passages. I am trying to read all of them with 100% open mind. This book has captured much of my attention because it is logical and scripture based. I truly want to understand prophecy and I admit, I may not know until the day the good Lord returns for us, but it is fun to study.

I am reading and studying too.
One reason I am at Rapture Ready is because their position is the same as mine.
The Jews and the church are separate entities and God revealed to Daniel the fate of his people and the gentiles.
Scripture gives us signs of the Antichrist.
He shows up as a dictator taking political control

He shows up declaring Peace and Prosperity to the world.

Buzzardhut, I am on RR for much as the same reason, but I would also hate to fall into the trap of believing the wrong thing and not being open to what could very well be true. Mr. Lowe has presented some interesting viewpoints. He maybe correct in some areas and not others. I believe it is our job as Christians to take what we hear and study it against the Word of God and pray about it to find what God wants to reveal to us.

On the same note, I believe we all have the same foundation of truth, our love for Christ. Based on that, I always agree to disagree and love everyone just the same

So far I have just read assumptions and little concrete evidence.
But I am only on Chapter 8 so you never know what might happen.
And I am not reading the book through the eyes of Tim Lahaye.

Actual Lowe's book, like many of my prophecy books, has helped me tweak my Revelation chart a bit and I hope it does more.

I just received Hagees' book "Jerusalem Countdown" in the mail today and will be reading that next.

Bunnymom321: Well said. You have the correct attitude. We all see what we see at a certain point in time, after much study. My understanding has changed several times over the years. So the proper attitude toward the scriptures is to keep a mind and heart open to the fact that certain things we think we know might not be entirely correct. If the religious leaders of Jesus time had done this, they might have recognized the time of their visitation. Thats why ALL of our opinions are of such value. It makes us aware of all the possible scenerios.

It was not a lack of knowledge preventing the religious leaders from recognizing Jesus, it was pride in their religion, jealousy of God's Kingdom, arrogance in their positions, and hate in their hearts for God's true salvation.
I am not studying under any of those conditions, I also pray everyday God will give me new information concening His prophecies.
Being open to fresh ideas through scripture doesn't mean you swallow every new scenerio that comes along.

I agree with all but the first sentence.

1Co 2:7 But we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, even the hidden wisdom, which God ordained before the world unto our glory:
1Co 2:8 Which none of the princes of this world knew: for had they known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory.

But the first sentence is truth and most important:

'Jesus speaking of the religious leaders and those who will not receive Him':

Mat 13:10 And the disciples came and said to him, Why do you say things to them in the form of stories?
Mat 13:11 And he said to them in answer, To you is given the knowledge of the secrets of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given.
Mat 13:12 Because whoever has, to him will be given, and he will have more; but from him who has not, even what he has will be taken away.
Mat 13:13 For this reason I put things into the form of stories; because they see without seeing, and give ear without hearing, and the sense is not clear to them.
Mat 13:14 And for them the words of Isaiah have come true, Though you give ear, you will not get knowledge; and seeing, you will see, but the sense will not be clear to you:
Mat 13:15 For the heart of this people has become fat and their ears are slow in hearing and their eyes are shut; for fear that they might see with their eyes and give hearing with their ears and become wise in their hearts and be turned again to me, so that I might make them well.

I'm still seeing it this way...making my way through Lowe's book slowly. I'll post on it as time allows. I'm trying to lend myself to his mindset. But I can't help but be skeptical. That's just me.

Yes, the horses are symbolic of impending war. Yeshua's triumphal entry was on a donkey (symbolic of peace).

Chapter 8
Lowe walks us through a good overview of Daniel's prophecies concerning the Abomination of Desolation and states it will be a dual fulfillment since it has already happened once by Antiochus IV Epiphanes but will happen again with AC in the End Times.

This encourages my Theory of Gog and Magog occurring 3 times as posted in my Revelation chart:
http://www.buzzardhut.net/index/ETT/NT/Revelation/RevChartVert.htm

Lowe moves on to determine when the 69 weeks started and concludes it began with Artaxerxes I Longimanus Decree of 457-6 BC allowing Ezra to rebuild Jerusalem and concludes the 69th week ended at Jesus' baptism.

Daniel 9:24 is his foundation verse: (emphasis mine)
70 weeks to finish the transgression (finish the age, end of second coming? before mill) bring sin to completion (crucifixion and end of age, before mill)
atone for iniquity (crucifixion/Resurrection, second coming, start of mill) bring in eternal righteousness (pentecost?, start of mill)
seal up prophetic vision (end of revelation, end of age)
Anoint the most Holy Place (Second Coming, New Jerusalem)

Still, the 69th week, for the Jews, could have ended at Pentecost (start of the church age) and pick up again (70th week) at the Rapture.

Lowe does say 1 week of the 70 = 1 year

Just a side note, I see a parallel of Jesus' Ministry lasting for 3 1/2 years and the Anti Jesus' Ministry of false peace lasting the first 3 1/2 years of the 7 year tribulation.

Chapter 9
Lowe discusses the AC's Peace Treaty and the AOD .
Lowe makes an interesting comment that the AC will not create a new Peace Treaty with the Jews but will Strengthen (Daniel 9:27) a current Peace Treaty.

Lowe points out the partial blindness upon the Jews (Rom 11:25) will fall upon the Gentiles (II Thess 2:11) during the 7 year Trib. And therefore no Gentiles can be saved at this time. If this impact of blindness falls upon the Gentiles during the Trib, I don't see why it would be any stronger than the Jewish blindness of today, and we see several Jews, Like Zola Levitt, and Jews for Jesus, surrender to Christ

Lowe points out the Second Woe appears (Rev 11:13) after The 2 Witnesses are Resurrected it must happen the first 3 ½ years of the Trib. To make room for the rest of the events.

Lowe suggests an Earth shifting occurs to reduce the Earth's orbit and cut the days of Judgment short. I have heard this theory taught before of the Earth's tilt shifting during Genesis causing the vapor canopy to rain down upon the Planet and God tilts the Earth back during the Great Trib adding numerous catastrophic weather calamities.

Bottom of p. 148, Lowe states other trib models teach Jews and Gentiles have to give their lives and be beheaded in order to be saved and enter the 1000k yr. I am not sure if he means this type of 'works' is being taught. Many that get saved during the trib may avoid death all together and still be alive at the Second Coming.

Lowe concludes Chapter 9 with a restatement the Rapture is at the 6th Seal

Chapter 10

Lowe reviews the 'Revelation' of Jesus and His Throne at the right hand of God with a vast Throng (crowd of humans), 24 Elders, and 4 Living Creatures.
John is to view Revelation from the Past, Present, and Future. (Rev 6-22 is future)

Lowe believes none of the 12 Apostles (Rev21:14) are of the 24 Elders (Rev 4:4) and that the 24 Elders are from 24 Divisions of the Levitical Priesthood.

Lowe elaborates that Jesus became The High Priest of the Order of Melchizedek at His water baptism.

Chapter 11
Lowe believes Rev 4 – 5 – 6 – 7 are to be viewed together as one continuous story.
But it does not have to be that way, Rev 4 – 5 are eternal and John is viewing past, present, and future, Rev 6 – 7 are chronological events of the future. (later, p.180, Lowe states John was not actually seeing events taking place but a vision)
As we read our Bible and John reveals Rev 4 -5, we know it is past but Rev 6 – 7 has not happened yet.
John watches the Lamb Jesus become worthy to take the Scroll (God's will and testament)

Lowe states the Rapture cannot occur before Rev 5 because John could not at first find Jesus in his vision because He was not yet sitting at the right hand of God

Lowe thinks the 24 elders are an Angelic Order of Priests. P.177

Lowe interprets Rev 5:9-10 through the Classical Greek of the New English Translation and believes the King James translation is in error for using the pronouns 'us' and 'we' rather than 'them' and 'they' therefore, the 24 elders and 4 living creatures are not including themselves in their song but are referring only to the redeemed. p.178

Chapter 12

Lowe re-emphasizes Rev 4 – 6 as one complete event.

All the Seals are still future events starting in the first century, not after the rapture p.185

The 4 horsemen are the 4 spirits of Zechariah 6

Lowe believes God gave permission to Satan to take control of the world
(but Satan actually took it by right from Adam and that is what Jesus came to get back.)

The first Seal of the White Horse is not AC but evil dominating religious powers of the world.
Lowe explains the history of Catholicism as a good example of evil religion pp.188-198
Since early Popes were political rulers as well as religious tyrants they make good examples of the white horse.

Chapter 13

(I believe these future Seals are special events to topple AC and His Govt. of false Peace , Lowe describes the Seals as beginning in the First century, or throughout centuries p.215)

Lowe describes The Second Seal as the Red Horse , murder, war, violence, bloodshed
(but Lowe even cites I John 3:12 where Cain killed Abel, this was done way before the first century.)

Third seal is the Black Horse of Poverty and Plagues
(But this has also existed since the beginning of time)

Fourth Seal is the Green Horse of Death
(once again, since the beginning of time, not just the first century)

I dont think God would have placed these passages within End Times events if they weren't for the End Times.

Chapter 14
Lowe reviews the Fifth Seal of Martyred Souls.
Lowe does not think the martyrs were killed by AC during the Tribulation because they cry out for justice and under the traditional Prophecy model, justice is already being poured out, and they wouldn't be asking 'how long?'. p.222
Lowe believes it makes more sense placing this seal at the first of the century.
Lowe does not think the 5th Seal can fit within the end of the last 3 ½ years because it would be out of order with the Trumpets, 2 witnesses, rise and mark of beast, and bowl judgments.

Lowe states the martyrs of Rev 15 are separate from the Rev 6 martyrs. P.223 and God does not avenge them till Rev 18 when the number of martyrs is finally reached.

Lowe says God avenges the blood of the martyrs with blood judgments. Pp.234 - 237

A couple of things that I find perplexing:

On page 11, Lowe asserts that Paul first revealed the rapture and then asks, "Why didn't Jesus specifically refer to the catching up of believers while he was on earth?" Then on pages 107 and 108, he appears to contradict himself with references to events described in Luke Chapter 17. Here, he says (on page 108 referring to Luke 17), "This description is in agreement with Paul's description of the resurrection and transformation event....." I was also disturbed that he didn't provide any kind of a discussion of "one taken and one left" in Luke 17 but just made this oblique reference to it and moved on. He also made no reference to the same event as it's described in Matthew 24. I'm often more persuaded of the validity or lack thereof of an author's position by the passages he appears to avoid rather than the ones he selects to expound upon that invariably tend to support his position.

When we get to the 6th seal in chapter 15, he seems to just gloss over one of the central tenets of his prophetic scheme, which is that it's at the 6th seal that the rapture occurs. No discussion whatsoever of when, how, etc. that it occurs in connection with the opening of the 6th seal. I kept asking myself, did I miss something and looking back over the material I had just read. It seemed very strange to me.

I have other thoughts, but why bother to elicit any more "ho hum, so what reactions". It's really kind of pointless.

Thanks, I should post the rest tomorrow, I may have made a few mistakes in my gleanings of his chapters, and if I did, I apologize in advance and hope someone points it out to corrects it.

I'm not sure he is avoiding them but you never know.

Yeah I was wondering if I missed it somewhere and was going to go back throught Chapters 1 -5 and look for it

BH, what did you think about his theories about a conversion to a Melchizedecan priesthood and the identity of the 24 elders? I agree that the 24 elders are probably angelic beings as opposed to being of human origin but the whole thing came off to me as a giant stretch of the imagination. My theory on the elders is something more akin to a Divine Council (http://www.thedivinecouncil.com/). I appreciate your comments.

Chapter 15
Lowe restates the opening of the first 5 Seals as 'natural' progression of history (32 AD to present) and they must take place before Daniel's 70th week. P.244

Lowe concludes that only God's wrath can happen during the Tribulation.
(But the 5 seals do not have to be viewed as God's wrath, they are seals of judgment, not wrath)

Lowe uses Matt 24 and Luke 21 as proof text to show the 5 Seals happening within the first century, not the first 3 ½ years of the 7 yr. tribulation

The Trumpet and Bowl judgments are 'supernatural events' carried out during the Great Trib p.246

The Trumpet judgments cannot begin until the prayers of the martyred saints are received. P.247 and the incense and fire rituals are completed p.249

The Blood Bowl judgments begin after the cries of the martyrs p.250

Lowe believes the 6th Trumpet (Rev 9) must be tied with the Second Woe (Rev 11:14 – Earthquake)
(but you could also tie in the 6th Trumpet with Earthquake of Bowl 7 (Rev 16)

Chapter 16
Lowe believes the 144,000 – the pure and humble men from Israel protected by God, are the return of the 'many saints' that were resurrected with Jesus in Matt 27:52-53
(these 144k may be current young Jewish men in Israel, or wherever, studying scripture, for educational and Levitical purposes, not realizing God is preparing them for a Great work during the Great Trib.)

Lowe restates his prophetic model is based upon Earthquake patterns, Resurrections, and the 6th Seal.

Lowes identifies the Great Cloud (Multitude) of Rev 7:9
(Rev 7:14 says they are people that came through the Tribulation)

Lowe says they are the 'bride of Christ' and shows how newer commentaries agree with him and how the King James Version uses the wrong word for Tribulation p.272

(This leaves us to choose Which Bible Version we should believe in, Lowe favors the New World Translation, and treads very closely with Rev 22:19 And if any man takes away from the words of this book, God will take away from him his part in the tree of life and the holy town, even the things which are in this book. Perhaps God added that statement for a reason?)

That's the end of Lowe's Prophetic Model and my Summary.

(P.177)
I have noticed these theories are becoming more popular, http://www.redmoonrising.com/24elders.htm maybe to help explain away the up and coming Rapture to those attending their church buildings the first Sunday after the Rapture?

Lets face it, there will be plenty of church services the Sunday after the Rapture and will probably be very full like on Easter and Christmas.
Perhaps they will be told "Even if there were a Rapture, it hasn't happened yet, look at our prophetic model"

I have never heard of the 24 Elders being Angels.
Wouldn't they be known as the 24 Angels?
An Elder is an Overseer of the Church
They may be the 12 from the 12 tribes of Israel and the 12 Apostles.

Priests are the representatives of God to men, and men to God.
You must be a man to be eligible for Priesthood (Leviticus) which is the reason for the Order of Melchezidek and one of the reasons God became a man (Jesus Christ) to represent men to God and God to men, and to be worthy, spotless and sacrificed, to open the 7 Seals – The Will of God. (done on Earth as it is in Heaven)

IMHO, the elders are not angels. If you look at this verse, ALL the angels and the elders are before the throne. They are shown as 2 different groups.

Rev 7:11 And all the angels stood round about the throne, and about the elders and the four beasts, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshiped God

True! I was only comparing the angels with the elders! But you are right, there are 3 distinct groups. So unless there is another class of angels, it appears that the elders can't be angels. But that is just my humble opinion.

No discusions after all these Chapter reviews?

Does anyone believe the 4 Horsemen are right now or just specific events for the future Trib?

Hey Buzzardhut ,

Have you read Red Moon Rising By Peter Goodgame?

Here are the reviews from amazon:

http://www.amazon.com/gp/product/1594679622/sr=8-2/qid=1143315104/ref=pd_bbs_2/104-4848938-0479924?%5Fencoding=UTF8

I believe this is the book that gave David Lowe the basis for his book. IMHO, Peter Goodgame does a better job explaining the concept of the Rapture occuring in the sixth seal.

I'm still debating this one....I was always taught that the 4 horsemen would be unleashed after the Rapture, and during the Trib, but I am questioning this when comparing the verses out of Zechariah which was referenced in this thread:

What do you think Buzzard?

I have found a lot of double and triple applications in prophecies such as the pig sacrifice of Antioch Epiphanies did not complete the AOD prophecies.

The symptoms of these horses have been here since Genesis so these 4 horses may have a specific purpose for this planet during the 7 year trib.

The Four Horsemen of Genesis

The White Horse of Conquest

Rev 6:2 And I saw. And behold a white horse! And he sitting on it had a bow. And a crown was given to him, and he went forth conquering and to conquer. Gen 3:1 Now the Serpent was more Cunning than any beast of the field whichGod had made. And he said to the woman, Is it so that God has said, You shall not eat of every tree of the garden?

The Red Horse of War

Rev 6:4 And another, a red horse, went out. And power was given to him sitting on it, to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another. And there was given to him a great sword.

Gen 3:15 And there will be war between you and the woman and between your seed and her seed: by him will your head be crushed and by you his foot will be wounded.

Gen 14:2... and they made war with Bera king of Sodom.....

The Black Horse of Famine

Rev 6:5 And when He had opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature say, Come and see. And I looked, and lo, a black horse. And he sitting on it had a balance in his hand.
Rev 6:6 And I heard a voice in the midst of the four living creatures say, A choenix of wheat for a denarius, and three choenixes of barley for a denarius. And do not hurt the oil and the wine.

Gen 43:1 And famine was severe in the land.

The Pale Horse of Death

Rev 6:8 And I looked, and behold, a pale horse. And the name of him sitting on it was Death, and Hell followed with him. And authority was given to them over the fourth part of the earth, to kill with the sword and with hunger and with death and by the beasts of the earth.

Gen 3:3 But of the fruit of the tree in the middle of the garden, God has said, If you take of it or put your hands on it, death will come to you.
Gen 3:4 And the snake said, Death will not certainly come to you:

Rom 5:12 Adam sinned, and that sin brought death into the world. Now everyone has sinned, and so everyone must die.
